

The amount of money billionaires deserve while people go without food, shelter, or basic needs

The amount of money it should cost to have basic human rights for health and education

The amount of acceptable preventable deaths from COVID for the economy

The amount of acceptable police killings of innocent black men in America

This zine might look under-designed, but I spent more time thinking about this zine than any other.

Each page isn't blank...
Each page is an infographic.

•= one unit of each statement

You might notice that none of the pages have a single dot.

That is my point. No matter the issue a human being is a human being.

All the problems in the news from equal rights to Covid to the corrupt government boil down to selfish, scared, greedy groups of people that forget that simple fact.

We need to educate ourselves and have the difficult conversations to better understand each other. Put yourself in others' shoes, think about what others are going through.

RIP TO THE TRUTH

THIS IS A ZINE

The amount of fucks the POTUS has given towards the downtrodden and suffering

The amount of truth, honesty and compassion shared by our government
